PICNIC OF OLD WAPELLO'S SONS

FORMER RESIDENTS OF THIS VICINITY ATTENDED MONSTER AFFAIR AT LOS ANGELES.

AT EASTLAKE PARK

Many Former Ottumwa People Were Present at Big Celebration on Washington's Birthday; W. A. Eaton Speaks.

Numerous Ottumwa and former residents of Wapello county, now on the Pacific coast, were present at the monster Iowa picnic in Los Angeles on Washington's birthday. The former Ottumwa residents were present at the annual picnic of the Iowa society and listened to an address by W. A. Eaton, ex-speaker of the Iowa assembly, at basket lunch on the grass and had a general good time.

Eastlake park was divided into "99 counties" and the residents of each county registered names and addresses at a "county tent." While the bands played and the children romped around on the grass the old folks sat around and wondered how every one back home was feeling. They heard all about the reason the population declined in Iowa, as Eaton said because Iowa has to furnish the brain and brawn for other states.

Mayor Alexander, of Los Angeles, a native of Iowa, was a guest of honor and though he is almost an octogenarian he had as good a time as the freshest youngster in the park. Numerous Ottumwas Present.

The following Iowans, now residents of Southern California, but who formerly resided in Wapello county, were present at the great picnic in Eastlake park:

The decedent was a native of Illinois, being born June 30, 1889. He had lived in Ottumwa for the past nine years. He was the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Hartson, who with their other son, Louis, survive. He graduated with the class of 1907, from the Ottumwa high school and has since been attending Iowa college at Grinnell, from which he would have graduated in June. He became ill about three weeks ago, and came home just two weeks ago yesterday. While a student in the high school, Mr. Hartson was a favorite with all his classmates and his acquaintances. He was a particularly studious young man, yet he had time for athletics to a certain degree and belonged to the debating societies. He was also a member of the graduating class cast in "The Senator," portraying the character of the old man.

His first year in Grinnell was sufficient for him to establish himself firmly in the high regard of his fellow students, and it was not long until his worth as a student was recognized. He was a member of the baritone section of the Glee club, president of the Creighton Literary society, treasurer of the college Y. M. C. A., and a member of the dramatic club. The esteem in which Ralph Hartson was held by his college friends has been attested by the numerous letters received daily from Grinnell, all expressing the hope that his illness would be of brief duration.

The Suburban Home Movement. Iowa Falls, March 16.—A new move towards establishing or providing suburban homes in Iowa Falls has just been put underway and seems to have met with the heartiest approval by the public. Several owners of farm property in the west part of the city and just outside the city limits have agreed to open up some of the property by dividing it into little farms. These small tracts will be sold in sizes varying from one to five acres and promise to find ready sale.

Her Name Always Edgerton. Council Bluffs, March 16.—Nora Edgerton did not marry for the sole purpose of changing her name. She has been married twice and her name has remained the same throughout, this from the fact that she has married cousins of the same name as herself. The unusual circumstance was brought to light and attention when she was united in marriage with Charles Edgerton of Des Moines, Canada. The bride lives in Hamburg, Ia. Her first marriage was with an Edgerton, a cousin of the present husband, who died some years ago.

Phoenix Mine Sold. Centerville, March 16.—The ownership of one of the important coal mines of this section, the property since March 9 but as changed recently when the Phoenix Coal company sold out to the Egypt Coal company of Mystic. The new owners have been in possession of the property since March 9 but as the coal business has been generally slack, practically nothing has been done toward operating it.

LAWYERS RUSH THEIR CAUSES

HALF DOZEN PETITIONS FILED ON THE LAST DAY FOR RECEIVING CASES.

ANOTHER COAL CASE

Suit Involving $8,000 for Mineral Rights in Marion County on File—Fulton Notes Come Into Court Again.

Owing to this being the last day for filing cases that are to be heard in district court during the March term, no less than six petitions were recorded with the clerk of court since yesterday morning. The fact that the March term opens on Monday, March 27 or within ten days after the filing of petitions closes, the attorneys have been busy for the past two days in filing their various causes. This is necessary in order to give the clerk an opportunity to docket the cases and get the dockets printed for the use of the bar during the term.

Big Coal Land Suit. In the causes filed, two of them recall cases that were heard during the term just concluding, one of which was somewhat spectacular in the amount involved and the time taken to hear it. This was the Seever-Cleveland Coal Co., suit involving several thousands of dollars and having to do with the purchase of coal lands largely in Marion county in what was known as the Belinda-Dallas lands. The same property is concerned in another legal battle in which Sarah Cloud seeks a sum aggregating $8,475 from the Cleveland Coal Co., for coal lands sold in this section largely through Byron Seever. In her petition Sarah Cloud embraces the claims of nine other plaintiffs who assigned their causes to her and she asks a judgment for $8,475 with interest at 6 per cent.

The Fulton Notes. An echo of the First National bank-Fulton case recently decided in favor of the bank, is seen in the petition filed by W. A. Fulton against the Iowa Underwriters Agency Co. The suit deals with the two notes that were involved in the former suits and in addition to these is a dividend of ten per cent granted on five shares of stock owned by W. C. Miller who has assigned his cause to the plaintiff.

P. L. Fulton has also assigned his cause to W. A. Fulton and claims possession of five shares of stock in the defendant company for which he never received a certificate. The plaintiff states that he and P. L. Fulton gave notes for $500 to the defendant for five shares of stock on July 11, 1908, and March 28, 1908, respectively and that W. C. Miller owned five shares of stock which was shown on the records of the defendant company January 10, 1910 when a dividend of ten per cent amounting to $50 on his stock was declared, but which he claims was never given him. The entire amount sought is computed at $1,055.

Sue for $2,000. Claiming that I. G. Furman handled the orders of Charles J. Kobel, H. Shadel and M. F. Broadwell through a bucket shop while operating as a broker for the purchase and sale through brokers, C. J. Kobel brings suit against I. G. Furman for $2,000. He claims in his petition that he gave orders to I. G. Furman to be handled through reputable and solvent bankers and that Shadel and M. F. Broadwell did the same. He states that the broker through whom I. G. Furman operated was the C. E. Butman Co. of Cincinnati, whom the plaintiff designates as conducting a bucket shop; that the Butman house failed and the plaintiff was thus made the loser of $725. H. Shadel $560, and M. F. Broadwell $715. Both of the latter assigned their causes to C. J. Kobel who makes a claim for a judgment in the sum of $2,000.

TIRED DAYS—NERVOUS DAYS—BACKACHE DAYS

It used to be thought that a cross, nervous person had a "bad disposition." Now it is known that a nervous condition often results from kidney trouble.

There is a great deal of uric acid made in the human body. It is the duty of the kidneys to filter off this uric acid, but when the kidneys are weak, the poison is peddled about the body by the blood, and it irritates the whole nervous system, causing headache, dizzy spells, fits of "blues," neuralgic attacks, rheumatic pain, weak eyesight, dull, tired days, and a constant inclination to worry over trifles.

You feel as if you can't stand any noise about you. The little ones often wonder what makes mother so cross and nervous. The business man is ill-tempered with his help, and makes a big fuss over every little thing that goes wrong.

Another effect of uric poisoning is droopy, or bloating—puffy pouches below the eyes, swollen wrists, ankles and limbs.

Kidney trouble makes urination irregular, passages too frequent, or scanty and painful, and gradually brings on attacks of gravel, stone in the kidney or bladder.

You can't afford to neglect weak kidneys as there is danger of fatal Bright's disease, or diabetes. Doan's Kidney Pills strengthen sick kidneys, cure backache, regulate the urine and restore the normal blood-filtering action of the kidneys. This drives out uric acid and ends uric poisoning. Plenty of proof in the cases cured right here in your own city. Investigate this case: Ottumwa Proof.

Mrs. E. Harry, near Riverview addition, Ottumwa, Iowa, says: "Over fifteen years ago I discovered this wonderful curative power of Doan's Kidney Pills, and I am glad to say that the relief they brought me at that time has been permanent. I take pleasure in confirming my former public endorsement of this remedy. For years I had attacks of backache and pain throughout my body. My bladder was affected and the secretions from my kidneys showed that these organs were at fault. I was not helped until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Sargent's drug store. This preparation soon cured me."

HIGHER WAGES PAID THE FARM HANDS DURING THE YEAR 1910

Statistics Just Made Public by Department of Agriculture Shows Average Wage for the Country of Twenty-seven Dollars Per Month.

Washington, D. C., March 16.—Higher wages were paid American farm laborers during 1910 than at any time in the last forty-five years, according to statistics just made public by the department of agriculture. The average wage for the country was $27.50 per month during 1910 while twenty-five years ago they were only $18.25 with board the average wage was $19.21. In some parts of the country the rate of wages of farm laborers was higher than in others. The highest was in Nevada where the rate was $54, while in Montana and Washington it was $50. South Carolina paid the lowest rate, $16.50 a month.

In the New England and North Atlantic states the average was $33.19, with Massachusetts paying the highest $37.20. With board the average was $21.65.

In the South Atlantic states the average was $19.75 with West Virginia paying the highest, $29. With board the average was $13.77.

In the northern central states east of the Mississippi river the average was $31.81 with Wisconsin paying the highest, $37.25. With board the average was $22.94.

In the northern central states west of the Mississippi the average was $35.45 with North Dakota paying the highest, $42. With board the average was $25.10.

In the south central states the average was $21.90 with Oklahoma paying the highest, $28.10. With board the average was $15.28.

In the far western states the average was $46.48, with Nevada paying the highest, $54. With board the average was $32.69.

BROADER FIELDS FOR HIGH SCHOOL

CHANGES IN COLLEGE ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS GREATER RANGE IN ELECTICS.

Des Moines, March 16.—The board of education has not been slow to recognize that the larger sphere of the high school is to serve local needs, not to prepare for college and university. A bulletin now in the hands of the state printer is about to be issued by the board setting out the new uniform standards of admission to the three state educational institutions. So liberal are these provisions that any community able to maintain a high school may offer its youth a sane, practical education in subjects likely to prove of real value in the work-a-day world, with the assurance that the doors of the higher institutions will not be closed to any who desire to enter. Full credit is given to the traditional courses in language, mathematics and the like, but on equal footing are found such subjects as agriculture, manual training, domestic science, drawing, stenography and commercial branches.

The bulletin will set out typical courses of study modeled on this new basis. In it will be found plans for training rural teachers and many suggestions for increasing the efficiency of the high schools. An important feature of the bulletin is the plan for accrediting high schools. The board believes that the courses in the higher institutions should be continuous with those in the secondary schools. Entrance upon college work is, therefore, made as simple as possible. The graduate of an accredited high school presents a certificate signed by the principal, and so far as his credits meet the conditions of the course he wishes to pursue, he is admitted without examination.

In these new and liberal regulations, adopted last fall, and now ready for publication, the state board believes the needs of the youth of Iowa will be met in a fair and rational way. The bulletin will be sent to every school in the state as soon as it is released from the press.
